LINESET BOX™

The Line Set Rough-In Box

Application

The NEW LINESET BOX™ is a rough-in box for new construction line set protection for all types of HVAC installations.

Advantages

The architecturally pleasing and professional looking LINESET BOX is easy to install and provides superior protection of refrigerant line sets and condensate drain lines.

Provides a clean termination point for new construction projects and reserves the bay for the HVAC system installation.

The LINESET BOX also protects the lineset from damage during construction. It helps to eliminate damage such as kinks that can drastically increase HVAC installation time.

Features

- Professional Finish and Architecturally Pleasing
- Easy to Install
- Multiple Options for Installation Orientation
- Available in Black or White
